(b) The Department of State increased the housing allowance $200 for each category of personnel concerned in those cases where individual rentals remain in force pending completion of the leasing program. With implementation of the above, no FBID employee in the [redacted] area need be out-of-pocket nor housed inadequately since the Bureau Chief has complete authority to correct any inequity.

While we would welcome a more general DD/S review of support requirements of FBIS, as suggested by the IG, FBID's overt status and use of vouchered funds has not permitted its support procedures to be incorporated into the unvouchered system upon which the Agency's basic administrative policies and procedures for overseas activities are based. At this time we do not feel that assignment of administrative officers from DD/S is necessary.
